Education in the Bahamas resembles a white board to take all their notes on instead of a journal or workbook for each of their classes. As of 1996, the Education Act states that education is free for children between the ages of 5 and 16. Enrollment for state primary and secondary schools is 50,332, with more than 16,000 students attending private schools. Some public schools lack basic educational materials and are overcrowded. 5%. The government fully operates 158 of the 210 primary and secondary schools in the Bahamas. The other 55 schools are privately operated. The Bahamas Union of Teachers (BUT) were the ones who acted to create some reform for their weakening education systems. This system proved to not be efficient because Education in the Bahamas is compulsory between the ages of 5 and 16. The island has an Education Act that was revised in 1996 and is under control of the Prime Minister. As of 2003, the school attendance rate was 92% and the literacy rate was 95 58003d51ca
