Non-governmental organization World Development. This can include non-profit and for-profit entities. Some nonprofit NGOs, like the World Economic Forum, may also act as lobby groups for corporations. Great Britain: 1846 A non-governmental organization (NGO) is an entity that is not part of the government. "NGOs and the Globalization of Managerialism: A Research Framework". ; Frohling, Oliver (2005). 33 (11). Unlike international organizations (IOs), which directly interact with sovereign states and governments, NGOs are independent from them. Nonprofit NGOs often focus on humanitarian or social issues but can also include clubs and associations offering services to members. An NGO typically is thought to be a nonprofit organization that operates partially independent of government control. An NGO may get a significant percentage or even all of its funding from government sources. III, John P 8da2db67a5

Foster care in the United States welfare agencies: Introduction to the symposium on "The Organizational and Managerial Context of Private Child Welfare Agencies"". The placement of the child is usually arranged through state or county social services. Children and Youth Services Foster care is the term used for a system in which a minor who has been made a ward or a non-minor, typically aged 18–21, who volunteers for placement, is placed in a relative placement, a non-related extended family (NREFM) placement, a community family home, an institution, or a group home (residential child care community, residential treatment center, etc. The institution, group home, or caregiver is reimbursed for the expenses related to caring for the child. Relative, NREFM, and community caregivers certified by the state are typically referred to as "foster parents," "kin caregivers," "resource parents," or other local terms.).
