Better, but not quite what I meant. Why do you have full information for some books like Cuccia in 83, but often use name, page # for other refs? Please standardize on name, page # for all cites. For the web sources, just use name, title, not website name or retrieval date, since those last two are provided in the full reference in the sources section.--Sturmvoegel 66 (talk) 23:56, 14 March 2018 (UTC)reply d7c6cfe9ba Comments by Tintor2 d7c6cfe9ba An early version of The Rescuers entered development in 1962, but was shelved due to Walt Disney's dislike of its political overtones. During the 1970s, the film was revived as a project intended for the younger animators, with the oversight of the senior staff. Four years were spent on the film's production. The Rescuers was released on June 22, 1977, to positive critical reception and became a box office success, earning $48 million during its initial theatrical run. It has since grossed $169 million after two theatrical re-releases in 1983 and 1989... d7c6cfe9ba Other than that, I see no further issues. This article is about the Rhine Campaign of 1796, an important campaign year for the French revolutionary wars against the European coalitions. Four armies worked their way back and forth across southern and central German states in the course of a few months. At the end, the armies ended up where they had begun, but French successes in Northern Italy (where the French army was led by Napoleon), forced the Austrians into an armistice and then a peace treaty. ... auntieruth (talk)
