Combining the now staple Rookie Patch Autographs with arguably the greatest draft Sports cards are a variety of trading card, small cards usually made of cardboard, which feature an image of an athlete or athletes along with identifying text. The two priciest cards are baseball cards, followed by three basketball cards. In some cases, especially with older cards that preceded the advent of card collecting as a widespread hobby, they have become collectors' items of considerable value. The value of a sports card depends on a combination of the card's condition, the subject's popularity and the scarcity of the card. The earliest sports cards were promotional materials usually included with tobacco products and candy and often bearing an advertisement on the reverse
