Sexism Sexism may arise from social or cultural customs and norms. Services, Housing and Indigenous Affairs, 2009, p. Discrimination in this context is defined as discrimination toward people based on their gender identity or their gender or sex differences. Sexism refers to violation of equal opportunities (formal equality) based on gender or refers to violation of equality of outcomes based on gender, also called substantive equality. Extreme sexism may foster sexual harassment, rape, and other forms of sexual violence. Watson, Ian (2010). It has been linked to gender roles and stereotypes, and may include the belief that one sex or gender is intrinsically superior to another. Sexism can affect anyone, but primarily affects women and girls.

"Decomposing the Gender Pay Gap in the Australian Managerial Labour Market" Sexism is prejudice or discrimination based on one's sex or gender. An example of this is workplace inequality. v-vi 76a0428748

Design management Design management encompasses the ongoing processes, business decisions, and strategies that enable innovation and create effectively-designed products, services, communications. The objective of design management is to develop and maintain an efficient business environment in which an organization can achieve its strategic and mission goals through design. "Simply put, design management is the business side of design. Every company's structure and internal culture is different; design management is no exception Design management is a field of inquiry that uses design, strategy, project management and supply chain techniques to control a creative process, support a culture of creativity, and build a structure and organization for design. something susceptible to pat formulas, a few bullet points or a manual. Design management is a comprehensive activity at all levels of business (operational to strategic), from the discovery phase to the execution phase 76a0428748
