Zinc Zinc is the 24th most abundant element in Earth's crust and has five stable isotopes. The largest workable lodes are in Australia, Asia, and the United States. Zinc is refined by froth flotation of the ore, roasting, and final extraction using electricity (electrowinning). The most common zinc ore is sphalerite (zinc blende), a zinc sulfide mineral. The U. In some respects, zinc is chemically similar to magnesium: both elements exhibit only one normal oxidation state (+2), and the Zn2+ and Mg2+ ions are of similar size. Institute of Medicine (IOM) updated Zinc is a chemical element; it has symbol Zn and atomic number 30. It is a slightly brittle metal at room temperature and has a shiny-greyish appearance when oxidation is removed. S. zinc binding sites. Some EF-hand calcium binding proteins such as S100 or NCS-1 are also able to bind zinc ions. It is the first element in group 12 (IIB) of the periodic table 5000
