Industrialization of China Desertification remains a serious problem The industrialization of China refers to the process of China undergoing various stages of industrialization and technological revolutions. Although the Chinese industrialization is largely defined by its 20th-century campaigns, especially those motivated by Mao Zedong's political calls to "exceed the UK and catch the USA", China has a long history that contextualizes the proto-industrial efforts, and explains the reasons for delay of industrialization in comparison to Western countries. The focus is on the period after the founding of the People's Republic of China where China experienced its most notable transformation from a largely agrarian country to an industrialized powerhouse. maintain a balance between industrialization and water quality due to the rate of China's growing industrial activities 66bcb347e3
