between Australia and Spellbinder (Polish: Dwa światy "Two worlds") is a 1995 English-language fantasy adventure science fiction children's television series, co-produced between Australia and Poland, and filmed in both countries. Paul, with the help of a local girl called Riana (Gosia Piotrowska), uses his wits and his own knowledge of science to survive, whilst his high-school friends try to rescue him. Only a small number of people there have technology - the "Spellbinders" - and they pretend it is magic and use it to rule over everyone else, manipulating people's fear and ignorance. The series follows the adventures of Sydney high-schooler Paul Reynolds (Zbyszek Trofimiuk) as he is accidentally stranded in a parallel world where the industrial revolution never happened

Life expectancy Cohort LEB is the mean length of life of a birth cohort (in this case, all individuals born in a given year) and can be computed only for cohorts born so long ago that all their members have died. The most commonly used measure is life expectancy at birth (LEB, or in demographic notation e_0 , where e_x denotes the average life remaining at age x). This can be defined in two ways. It has been shown that the psychiatric medication olanzapine can increase risk of developing agranulocytosis, among Human life expectancy is a statistical measure of the estimate of the average remaining years of life at a given age. increase the risk of developing diabetes.
