Hi, just to confirm there is no conflict of interest. These two new studies have just been published relating to MZ and I wanted to add the information to the MZ page. I would like to know why it has been taken down. Macularcarotenoids (talk) 16:17, 21 November 2017 (UTC) Archives are generally grouped by month of Main Page appearance. (Currently, DYK hooks are archived according to the date and time that they were taken off the Main Page.) To find which archive contains the fact that appeared on Did you know, go to the article's talk page and follow the archive link in the DYK talk page message box or the Article Milestones box. If you find an article with a strange title up for deletion at WP:AFD, consider this page. If you do add it to the list, simply put it in its correct alphabetical place. Please don't link it – it'll only encourage them. The article is something a reasonable person would not expect to find in a standard encyclopedia. a0a3861d0c

Whether or not the decision is made to keep the edits in question (and given how they are primary sources, I doubt they should be included until there is secondary source commentary on them), your talkpage reveals that you clearly have a conflict of interest.

As to this page's title, consider it a mild addition to the collection of "freaky" titles - the real reason for it was just so that it bizarre titles, and surreal titles - all are equally fair game. a0a3861d0c Greetings, I'm
