Largest artificial non-nuclear explosions Jones & Bartlett Learning. "Explosion". ISBN 978-1-55109095-5. This list contains the largest known examples, sorted by date. 408. User's Manual for NFPA 921. An unambiguous ranking in order of severity is not possible; a 1994 study by historian Jay White of 130 large explosions suggested that they need to be ranked by an overall effect of power, quantity, radius, loss of life and property destruction, but concluded that such rankings are difficult to assess. p. National Fire Protection Association (2005). Oxford Dictionaries There have been many extremely large explosions, accidental and intentional, caused by modern high explosives, boiling liquid expanding vapour explosions (BLEVEs), older explosives such as gunpowder, volatile petroleum-based fuels such as petrol, and other chemical reactions electrical line (whether or not protected by a conduit), it will melt the wire insulation and cause an electrical fault at the first point that it reaches on the electrical line. occasion much debate. It is usually performed by a forensic electrical engineer. Muthuraman Arc mapping is a technique used in fire investigation that relies on finding the locations of electrical arcs and other electrical faults that occurred during a fire; the locations of the electrical faults can then, under some circumstances, indicate the progression of the fire over time. National Fire Protection Association (2006). User's Manual for NFPA 921. For this to occur, the electrical line must be energized at the time that fire hits it. ISBN 0-7637-4402-6
