Analysis of European colonialism and colonization It has been estimated that Britain and France traced almost 50% of the entire length of today's international boundaries as a result of British and French imperialism. For example, colonial policies, such as the type of rule implemented, the nature of investments, and identity of the colonizers, are cited as impacting postcolonial states. Examination of the state-building process, economic development, and cultural norms and mores shows the direct and indirect consequences of colonialism on the postcolonial states.
