Sweeney Todd opened on Broadway in 1979 and in the West End in 1980. It won the Tony Award for Best Musical and Olivier Award for Best New Musical. It has been revived in many productions and inspired a film adaptation. The original logo for the musical is a modified version of an advertising image from the 19th century, with the sign replaced by a straight razor. There is also a woman wearing a blood-stained dress and holding a rolling pin next to the man...

List of Wisconsin circuit court judges "The Judicial Branch" (PDF). There were originally five numbered circuit courts—each with one judge. The number of circuits was expanded via legislation as the population of the state grew, growing to 26 numbered circuits by 1965. The Wisconsin circuit courts were established by Article VII of the Constitution of Wisconsin, ratified May 8, 1848. In the first version of the constitution, and until 1853, the circuit court judges also served as the Wisconsin Supreme Court. 539. Theobald, H. (Report). The Harvard Advocate Stewart, filmmaker The Harvard Advocate, the art and literary magazine of Harvard College, is the oldest continuously published college art and literary magazine in the United States. The magazine (published then in newspaper format) was founded by Charles S. Peckham in 1866 and, except for a hiatus during the last years of World War II, has published continuously since then. In 1916, The New York Times published a commemoration of the Advocate's fiftieth anniversary. Gage and William G. Fifty years after that, Donald Hall wrote in The New York Times Book Review: "In the world of the college—where every generation is born, grows old and dies in four years—it is rare for an institution to survive a decade, much less a century. Yet the Harvard Advocate, the venerable undergraduate literary magazine, celebrated.
