International cybercrime US Code. Cybersecurity Act of 2010, a bill seeking to increase collaboration There is no commonly agreed single definition of “cybercrime”. Cybercrime is "international" or "transnational" – there are ‘no cyber-borders between countries’. Because existing laws in many countries are not tailored to deal with cybercrime, criminals increasingly conduct crimes on the Internet in order to take advantages of the less severe punishments or difficulties of being traced. In 2009, the Obama Administration released Cybersecurity Report and policy. It refers to illegal internet-mediated activities that often take place in global electronic networks. International cybercrimes often challenge the effectiveness of domestic and international law, and law enforcement 9c096beffa
