Case method Some case teachers The case method is a teaching approach that uses decision-forcing cases to put students in the role of people who were faced with difficult decisions at some point in the past. It developed during the course of the twentieth-century from its origins in the casebook method of teaching law pioneered by Harvard legal scholar Christopher C. Langdell. Rather, the chief task of instructors who use the case method is asking students to devise, describe, and defend solutions to the problems presented by each case. historical solution to the problem serves primarily to provide students with a baseline to which they can compare their own solutions. In sharp contrast to many other teaching methods, the case method requires that instructors refrain from providing their own opinions about the decisions in question f829b88428
