Health effects of radon Its most stable isotope, radon-222, has a half-life of 3.8 days. Due to its high radioactivity, it has been less well studied by chemists, but a few compounds are known. Radon is one of the densest substances that remains a gas under normal conditions, and is considered to be a health hazard due to its radioactivity. Radon is a radioactive, colorless, odorless, tasteless noble gas, which has been studied by a number of scientific and medical bodies for its effects on health. 8 days. Produced by Schuyler and Hood's Playing With Time, development of the series began soon after the end of The Kids of Degrassi Street, in response to a perceived lack of teenage representation in media. Its cast mainly consisted of amateurs who were similar in age to the characters they played, a deliberate response to the trend of young adults being cast in teenage roles. The actors had...

Geographic information system In a broader sense, one may consider such a system also to include human users and support staff, procedures and workflows, the body of knowledge of relevant concepts and methods, and institutional organizations. with these systems. Much of this often happens within a spatial database; however, this is not essential to meet the definition of a GIS. The academic discipline that studies these systems and their underlying geographic principles, may also be abbreviated as GIS, but A geographic information system (GIS) consists of integrated computer hardware and software that store, manage, analyze, edit, output, and visualize geographic data

Remote control animal The animals are controlled by the use of radio signals. Some applications require electrodes to be implanted in the animal's nervous system connected to a receiver which is usually carried on the animal's back. These are sometimes called bio-robots or robo-animals. Even one of the pioneers Remote control animals are animals that are controlled remotely by humans. The electrodes do not move the animal directly, as if controlling a robot; rather, they signal a direction or action desired by the human operator and then stimulate the animal's reward centres if the animal complies. They can be considered to be cyborgs as they combine electronic devices with an organic life form and hence are sometimes also called cyborg-animals or cyborg-insects.
