English language English is the most spoken language in the world, primarily due to the global influences of the former British Empire (succeeded by the Commonwealth of Nations) and the United States. Many English adverbs are derived from adjectives by appending the suffix -ly. However, English is only the third-most spoken native language, after Mandarin Chinese and Spanish. It is the most widely learned second language in the world, with more second-language speakers than native speakers. For example, in the phrase “the woman walked quickly”, the adverb quickly is English is a West Germanic language that emerged in early medieval England and has since become a global lingua franca. The namesake of the language is the Angles, one of the Germanic peoples that migrated to Britain after its Roman occupiers left
