Diving safety Other equipment allows the diver to operate in relative comfort and efficiency, or to remain healthy over the longer term. Equipment is used to operate underwater for anything beyond very short periods, and the reliable function of some of the equipment is critical to even short-term survival. The safety of underwater diving depends on four factors: the environment, the equipment, behaviour of the individual diver and performance of the dive team. The performance of the individual diver depends on learned skills, many of which are not intuitive. The underwater environment can impose severe physical and psychological stress on a diver, and is mostly beyond the diver's control. Training in the minimum required skills specified for the certification, splitting certification into multiple courses for maximum diver convenience and Diving safety is the aspect of underwater diving operations and activities concerned with the safety of the participants 7923a9b3a5
