Educated as a chemist and employed as a scientist for thirty years, Peirce meanwhile made major contributions to logic, such as theories of relations and quantification. C. I. Lewis wrote, "The contributions of C. S. Peirce to symbolic logic are more numerous and varied than those of any other writer—at least in the nineteenth... fae1ae5b17

Charles Sanders Peirce Stanley Hall and studied by Joseph Jastrow, who coauthored a landmark Charles Sanders Peirce (PURSS; September 10, 1839 – April 19, 1914) was an American scientist, mathematician, logician, and philosopher who is sometimes known as "the father of pragmatism". According to philosopher Paul Weiss, Peirce was "the most original and versatile of America's philosophers and America's greatest logician". Bertrand Russell wrote "he was one of the most original minds of the later nineteenth century and certainly the greatest American thinker ever". philosophy (Royce and Dewey completed their PhDs at Hopkins), psychology (taught by G fae1ae5b17

Sitchin's ideas have been resoundingly rejected by scientists, academics, historians (including Sumerologists, Orientalists and Assyriologists) and anthropologists who dismiss his work as pseudoscience and pseudohistory... fae1ae5b17

John A. O'Keefe (astronomer) O'Keefe joined NASA in December 1958 and became the assistant chief of the Theoretical Division under Robert Jastrow at the Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt John Aloysius O'Keefe III (October 13, 1916 – September 8, 2000) was an expert in planetary science and astrogeology with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) from 1958 to 1995 fae1ae5b17

He and his co-authors, Ann Eckels and Ken Squires, are credited with the discovery that the Earth had a significant third degree zonal spherical harmonic in its gravitational field using U.S. Vanguard 1 satellite data collected in the late 1950s. The Earth's pear shape as it was known became front-page news and was even the subject of a "Peanuts" cartoon. fae1ae5b17

Discovery of cosmic microwave background radiation New York: Neale Watson Academic Publications, Inc. The Evolution of Radio Astronomy. In 1964, American physicist Arno Allan Penzias and radio-astronomer Robert Woodrow Wilson discovered the cosmic microwave background (CMB), estimating its temperature as 3. (1973). God and the Astronomers The discovery of cosmic microwave background radiation constitutes a major development in modern physical cosmology. ISBN 978-0-88202-027-3. There had been a prior measurement of the cosmic background radiation (CMB) by Andrew. 5 K, as they experimented with the Holmdel Horn Antenna. The new measurements were accepted as important evidence for a hot early Universe (Big Bang theory) and as evidence against the rival steady state theory as theoretical work around 1950 showed the need for a CMB for consistency with the simplest relativistic universe models. In 1978, Penzias and Wilson were awarded the Nobel Prize for Physics for their joint measurement. Jastrow, Robert (1978) fae1ae5b17

He was the first to propose the idea of a scanning microscope in 1956 and he is the co-discoverer of the YORP effect (short for Yarkovsky-O'Keefe-Radzievskii-Paddock effect), an effect... fae1ae5b17

List of agnostics (1825–1895): English biologist and coiner of the term agnosticism. Also included are individuals who have expressed the view that the veracity of a god's existence is unknown or inherently unknowable. Edwin Thompson Listed here are persons who have identified themselves as theologically agnostic. Robert Jastrow (1925–2008): American astronomer, physicist and cosmologist fae1ae5b17

Zecharia Sitchin , Morris (1911). Sitchin attributed the creation of the ancient Sumerian culture to the Anunnaki, which he claimed was a race of extraterrestrials from a planet beyond Neptune called Nibiru. He claimed that Sumerian mythology suggests that this hypothetical planet of Nibiru is in an elongated, 3,600-year-long elliptical orbit around the Sun. Putnam's Sons: New York and London. Sitchin's books have sold millions of copies worldwide and have been translated into more than 25 languages. Jastrow, Jr. com. Aspects of Religious Belief and Practice in Babylonia and Assyria, G. pp Zecharia Sitchin (11 July 1920 – 9 October 2010) was an author of a number of books proposing an explanation for human origins involving ancient astronauts. Hebrew astronomy It includes a range of genres from the earliest astronomy and cosmology contained in the Bible, mainly the Tanakh (Hebrew Bible or "Old Testament"), to Jewish religious works like the Talmud and very technical works. der Babylonier, Strasburg, 1890, passim; Jastrow, Religion of Babylonia and Assyria, xx. ; Joseph Epping and Johann Nepomuk Strassmaier, Astronomisches Hebrew astronomy refers to any astronomy written in Hebrew or by Hebrew speakers, or translated into Hebrew, or written by Jews in Judeo-Arabic. -xxii fae1ae5b17

In 1965, while using this antenna, Penzias and Wilson discovered the cosmic microwave background radiation (CMBR) that permeates the universe. This was one of the most important discoveries in physical cosmology since Edwin Hubble demonstrated in the 1920s that the universe was expanding. It provided the evidence that confirmed George Gamow's and Georges Lemaître's "Big Bang... fae1ae5b17

Holmdel Horn Antenna Jastrow, Robert. Observatories: A Directory and Travel The Holmdel Horn Antenna is a large microwave horn antenna that was used as a satellite communication antenna and radio telescope during the 1960s at the Bell Telephone Laboratories facility located on Crawford Hill in Holmdel Township, New Jersey, United States. New York : W. H. It was designated a Progressive creationism God and the Astronomers: Progressive creationism is the religious belief that God created new forms of life gradually over a period of hundreds of millions of years. Bethany House Publishers. ISBN 1-55661-679-1. The bursts are followed by periods of stasis or equilibrium to accommodate new arrivals. Jastrow, Robert (2000). In this view creation occurred in rapid bursts in which all "kinds" of plants and animals appear in stages lasting millions of years. and Evolution: Rethinking the Evidence from Science and the Bible. These bursts represent instances of God creating new types of organisms by divine intervention. As viewed from the archaeological record, progressive creationism holds that "species do not gradually appear by the steady transformation. As a form of old Earth creationism, it accepts mainstream geological and cosmological estimates for the age of the Earth, some tenets of biology such as microevolution as well as archaeology to make its case fae1ae5b17

Some Persian and Arabian traditions ascribe the invention of astronomy to Adam, Seth and Enoch. Some scholars suggest that the signs of the zodiac, or Mazzaloth, and the names of the stars associated with them originally were created as a mnemonic device by these forefathers of the Hebrews to tell the story of the Bible. fae1ae5b17 Historian Flavius Josephus says Seth and his offspring preserved ancient astronomical knowledge in pillars of stone... fae1ae5b17
