State capitalism Tisch Professor of History at Harvard University Niall Ferguson warns against "an unhelpful oversimplification to divide the world into State capitalism is an economic system in which the state undertakes business and commercial economic activity and where the means of production are nationalized as state-owned enterprises (including the processes of capital accumulation, centralized management and wage labor). The definition can also include the state dominance of corporatized government agencies (agencies organized using business-management practices) or of public companies (such as publicly listed corporations) in which the state has controlling shares. and Laurence A ae45f6b82e

Ferguson TE20 It marked a major advance in tractor design, distinguished by light weight, small size, manoeuvrability and versatility. The tractor played a large part in introducing widespread mechanised agriculture. In many parts of the world the TE20 was the first tractor to be affordable to the average farmer and was small and light enough to replace the draft horse and manual labour. By far his most successful design, it was manufactured from 1946 until 1956, and was commonly known as the
