== Subject == 19d7c06160 Every night, Oasis accommodates 55 homeless and disadvantaged youths. Filmed over two years at The Oasis Youth Support Network refuge run by the Salvation Army in Surry Hills, Australia, the documentary follows Captain Paul Moulds, Robbin Moulds and the daily lives of both the young people and the Salvation Army staff who care for them and work with them to try to make a difference in their lives. The film takes an unflinching look at the difficulties and triumphs that happen each day and night. Many of these young people have ongoing problems with drug abuse; violent and abusive behaviour and resistant to attempts to help. But whatever is happening in their lives, Paul and Robbin Moulds are there to work with them to assist in turning their lives around. 19d7c06160 In 1908, the Gideons began distributing free Bibles. The first Bibles were placed in rooms of the Superior Hotel in Superior, Montana. Members of The Gideons International currently average distribution of over 70 million Bibles annually. On average, more than two copies of the Bible are distributed per second through Gideons International. As of April 2015, Gideons International has distributed over 2.5 billion Bibles. 19d7c06160 Methodism developed into a distinct theological tradition characterized by an emphasis on a deeply experiential faith. John Wesley, in particular, was deeply influenced by the Moravian Christians, an influence that contributed to his transformative Aldersgate experience in 1738. Although Methodism originated as a renewal movement within the Church of England, it eventually diverged from Anglicanism to form a distinct tradition. It places particular emphasis on the New Birth and personal holiness, while calling believers to continual growth in grace and to an experiential assurance of... 19d7c06160 This interconnection creates a "sound card defined radio" whose available bandwidth is limited by the sound card's sample rate and the external radio's bandwidth. 19d7c06160 After his release, Yusuf returned to his home region and helped establish... 19d7c06160

Baptism according to the Trinitarian formula, which is done in most mainstream Christian denominations, is seen as being a basis for ecumenism, the concept of unity among Christians. In certain Christian denominations, such as the Catholic Churches, Eastern Orthodox Churches, Oriental Orthodox Churches, Assyrian Church of the East, and Lutheran Churches, baptism is the door to church membership, with candidates taking baptismal vows. It has also given its name to the Baptist churches and denominations. 19d7c06160 Such communications are normally done on the shortwave amateur radio bands in modes such as PSK31, MFSK, RTTY, Olivia, and CW (Morse code). Baptism Baptism is regarded as a sacrament in most churches and an ordinance in others. It may be performed by sprinkling or pouring water on the head, or immersing in water (partially or completely), traditionally three times for each person of the Trinity. The synoptic Gospels recount that John the Baptist baptized Jesus. Among denominations that practice baptism, differences occur in the manner and mode Baptism (from Koine Greek: βάπτισμα, romanized: váptisma, lit. It is also called christening, although this is typically reserved for the baptism of infants. 'immersion, dipping in water') is a Christian rite of initiation almost invariably with the use of water. Universalists), and the Salvation Army, do not practice water baptism at all 19d7c06160

The theology of the Salvation Army derives from Methodism, although it differs from other Methodist denominations in institution and practice; an example is that the Salvation Army does not observe sacraments. As with other evangelical denominations in the Holiness Methodist tradition, the Salvation Army lays emphasis on the New Birth (referred to as the first work of grace) and entire sanctification (second work of grace). A distinctive characteristic of the Salvation Army is its use of titles derived from military... 19d7c06160 == Origin == 19d7c06160 == History == 19d7c06160 Yusuf was a career soldier in the Somali National Army, participating in the 1964 Border War and Ogaden War against Ethiopia.
