

Pharmacology Connections To Nursing Practice 3rd Edition

From the earliest times most cultures produced a stream of nurses dedicated to service on religious principles. Both Christendom and the Muslim World generated a stream of dedicated nurses from their earliest days. In Europe before the foundation of modern nursing, Catholic nuns and the military often provided nursing-like services. It took until the 19th century for nursing to become a secular profession. In the 20th century nursing became a major profession in all modern countries, and was a favored career for women. 9d4f763070 The World Health Organization (WHO) describes palliative care as: 9d4f763070

Palliative care For people who do not respond to first-line medications, Palliative care (from Latin root palliare "to cloak") is an interdisciplinary medical care-giving approach aimed at optimizing quality of life and mitigating or reducing suffering among people with serious, complex, and often terminal illnesses. Several antiemetic pharmacologic options are suggested to help alleviate these symptoms. Many definitions of palliative care exist. distress 9d4f763070
