Women in engineering Some have decried this gender gap, saying that it indicates the absence of potential talent. A study by the Harvard Business Review discussed the reasons why the rate of women in the engineering field Women are often underrepresented in the academic and professional fields of engineering; however, many women have contributed to the diverse fields of engineering historically and currently. Gender stereotypes, low rates of female engineering students, and engineering culture are factors that contribute to the current situation where men dominate in fields relating to engineering sciences. mechanical, electrical and computer engineering. A number of organizations and programs have been created to understand and overcome this tradition of gender disparity. Though the gender gap as a whole is narrowing, there is still a growing gap with minority women compared to their white counterparts b9fcd959eb
