Climate change and civilizational collapse Finally, it is sometimes suggested that a civilizational collapse caused by climate change would soon be followed by human extinction. "Collapse of civilizations worldwide defines Climate change and civilizational collapse refers to a hypothetical risk that the negative impacts of climate change might reduce global socioeconomic complexity to the point that complex human civilization effectively ends around the world, with humanity reduced to a less developed state. Retrieved 31 August 2020. Science Magazine. may explain civilization's missing millennia in Southeast Asia". This hypothetical risk is typically associated with the idea of a massive reduction of human population caused by the direct and indirect impacts of climate change, and also with a permanent reduction of Earth's carrying capacity 64984de6fd

The protoscience of chemistry, and alchemy, was unsuccessful in explaining the nature of matter and its transformations. However, by performing experiments and recording the results, alchemists set the stage for modern chemistry. 64984de6fd

Evolutionary psychology and culture Tooby and Cosmides (1989) argued that the mind consists of many domain-specific psychological adaptations, some of which may constrain what cultural material is learned or taught. As opposed to a domain-general cultural acquisition program, where an individual passively receives culturally-transmitted material from the group, Tooby and Cosmides (1989), among others, argue that: "the psyche evolved to generate adaptive rather than repetitive behavior, and hence critically analyzes the behavior of those surrounding it in highly. Considerable work, though, has been done on how these adaptations shape and, ultimately govern, culture (Tooby and Cosmides, 1989). cultures may result from separate histories and cultural evolutionary pathways or different evoked cultures, based on different local environmental cues Evolutionary psychology has traditionally focused on individual-level behaviors, determined by species-typical psychological adaptations 64984de6fd

A Child of Our Time The text's recurrent themes of shadow and light reflect the Jungian psychoanalysis which Tippett underwent. Composed between 1939 and 1941, it was first performed at the Adelphi Theatre, London, on 19 March 1944. Tippett's oratorio deals with these incidents in the context of the experiences of all oppressed people, and it carries a strongly pacifistic message of ultimate understanding and reconciliation. The work was inspired by events that profoundly affected Tippett: the assassination of a German diplomat by a young Jewish refugee in 1938, and the Nazi government's reaction to the assassination which was in the form of a violent pogrom against Germany's Jewish population: Kristallnacht. detailed analysis of the oratorio, writes: "As well as constructing the pathway through the dramatic narrative, the five spirituals also combine to provide A Child of Our Time is a secular oratorio by the British composer Michael Tippett, who also wrote the libretto 64984de6fd

City The term "city" has different meanings around the world and in some places the settlement can be very small. In a narrower sense, a city can be defined as a permanent and densely populated place with administratively defined boundaries whose members work primarily on non-agricultural tasks. Even where the term is limited to larger settlements, there is no universally agreed definition of the lower boundary for their size. The degree of urbanization is a modern metric to help define what comprises A city is a human settlement of a substantial size. Societies that live in cities are often called civilizations. combination of these. Their density facilitates interaction between people, government organizations, and businesses, sometimes benefiting different parties in the process, such as improving the efficiency. Cities generally have extensive systems for housing, transportation, sanitation, utilities, land use, production of goods, and communication 64984de6fd
