Informally, at least in engineering organizations, closing the loop means establishing an informal communication channel with another individual or organization. The expression... When the sender gives a message, the receiver repeats this back. The sender then confirms the message, commonly using the word "yes". When the receiver incorrectly repeats the message back, the sender will say "negative" (or something similar) and then repeat the correct message. If the sender, the person giving the message, does not get a reply back, he must repeat it until the receiver starts closing the loop. To get the attention of the receiver, the sender can use the receiver's name or functional position, touch their shoulder, etc. Humans have communicatory abilities other animals do not. For example, humans are able to communicate about time and place as though they are solid objects. Humans communicate to request help, inform others, and share attitudes for bonding... In 2024, Hancock became embroiled in controversy after he was retained by the Minnesota Attorney General as an expert witness to defend a state law prohibiting the use of AI-generated deepfakes in elections. Hancock submitted a court filing that relied on ChatGPT, which contains citations of fake, non-existent sources. A federal judge barred his testimony, citing the "irony" and the resulting collapse of his credibility. Experimental studies have been undertaken with the aim of determining what effects, if any, participating in a T-group has on the participants. For example, a 1975 article by Nancy E. Adler and Daniel Goleman concluded that "Students who had participated in a T-group showed significantly more change toward their selected goal than those who had not." Carl...
