London at the turn of the century: Mrs. Lucy Muir, recently widowed by Edwin, an architect, moves to Whitecliff by the sea, despite her sister-in-law Eva's sharp disapproval, and her mother-in-law Angelica's sadness at Lucy taking away her young daughter Anna, and her loyal housekeeper Martha Huggins. The local estate agent Mr. Coombe reluctantly shows her Gull Cottage, in which she sees the portrait of the former owner, the roguish sea captain Daniel Gregg. They hear a ghostly laugh - Lucy, unafraid, remarks, "Haunted. How perfectly fascinating." Coombe claims that Gregg committed suicide, but she persists in renting Gull Cottage, joking, "it's too ridiculous...in the 20th century, to believe in apparitions." dabef9c0dd In October 2007, HarperCollins released the first public edition of Hill's collection. List of 20th-century classical composers The 20th century is defined by the calendar rather than by any unifying characteristics of musical style or attitude, and is therefore not an era of the same order as the classical or romantic. It includes only composers of significant fame and importance. However, the century can be divided into modern and postmodern eras that overlap and can be defined more by differences in attitude than style. Names are listed first by year of birth, then in alphabetical order within each year. The style of the composer's music is given where possible, bearing in mind that some defy simple classification.
