In general, an index of refraction is a complex number with both a real and imaginary part, where the latter indicates the strength of absorption loss at a particular... 74d284801c

Similar devices are also found on other platforms such as artillery, tanks and even aircraft. 141-142, Pedrotti & Pedrotti, Prentice-Hall 1993 ";History of Camera Lenses from A telescopic sight, commonly called a scope informally, is an optical sighting device based on a refracting telescope. Telescopic sights are used with all types of systems that require magnification in addition to reliable visual aiming, as opposed to nonmagnifying iron sights, reflector (reflex) sights, holographic sights or laser sights, and are most commonly found on long-barrel firearms, particularly rifles, usually via a scope mount. It is equipped with some form of a referencing pattern - known as a reticle - mounted in a focally appropriate position in its optical system to provide an accurate point of aim. The optical components may be combined with optoelectronics to add night vision or smart 74d284801c

There are also weaker dependencies on temperature, pressure/stress, etc., as well on precise material compositions (presence of dopants, etc.); for many materials and typical conditions, however, these variations are at the percent level or less. Thus, it's especially important to cite the source for an index measurement if precision is required. 74d284801c

"Birdwatching Binoculars Binoculars or field glasses are two refracting telescopes mounted side-by-side and aligned to point in the same direction, allowing the viewer to use both eyes (binocular vision) when viewing distant objects. Most binoculars are sized to be held using both hands, although sizes vary widely from opera glasses to large pedestal-mounted military models. "Introduction to Optics 2nd ed"; 74d284801c

List of refractive indices ; Pedrotti, Leno S. Chemical Rubber Publishing Co. Pearson Prentice Many materials have a well-characterized refractive index, but these indices often depend strongly upon the frequency of light, causing optical dispersion. Pedrotti, Frank L. (2007). ; Pedrotti, Leno M. Introduction to Optics, Third Edition. Standard refractive index measurements are taken at the "yellow doublet" sodium D line, with a wavelength (λ) of 589 nanometers 74d284801c

Unlike a (monocular) telescope, binoculars give users a three-dimensional image: each eyepiece presents a slightly different image to each of the viewer's eyes and the parallax allows the visual cortex to generate an impression of depth. 74d284801c
