Consciousness In the past, it was one's "inner life", the world of introspection, of private thought, imagination, and volition. However, its nature has led to millennia of analyses, explanations, and debate among philosophers, scientists, and theologians. In some explanations, it is synonymous with the mind, and at other times, an aspect of it. Today, it often includes any kind of cognition, experience, feeling, or perception. Opinions differ about what exactly needs to be studied or even considered consciousness. Human impact on the environment Some of the problems, including global warming and biodiversity. Scientific Assessment of Ozone Depletion: Human impact on the environment (or anthropogenic environmental impact) refers to changes to biophysical environments and to ecosystems, biodiversity, and natural resources caused directly or indirectly by humans. Some human activities that cause damage (either directly or indirectly) to the environment on a global scale include population growth, neoliberal economic policies and rapid economic growth, overconsumption, overexploitation, pollution, and deforestation. Modifying the environment to fit the needs of society (as in the built environment) is causing severe effects including global warming, environmental degradation (such as ocean acidification), mass extinction and biodiversity loss, ecological crisis, and ecological collapse. edu/features/kelp_seagrass_slow_ocean_acidification_netarts "Twenty Questions and Answers About the Ozone Layer"; (PDF) Bateson
