The diagnosis of schizophrenia was broader than its modern equivalent; autistic children were often diagnosed with childhood schizophrenia. The earliest research that focused on children who would today be considered autistic was conducted by Grunya Sukhareva starting in the 1920s. In the 1930s and 1940s, Hans Asperger and Leo Kanner described... 718ae752bc tech 718ae752bc October 20 > 718ae752bc << Mar | April | May >> 718ae752bc Welcome to the Wikipedia Humanities Reference Desk Archives 718ae752bc This page contains discussions that have been archived from Village pump (proposals). Genie (feral child) For legal reasons, all of Genie (born 1957) is the pseudonym of an American feral child who was a victim of severe abuse, neglect, and social isolation. The independent film Mockingbird Don't Sing, released in 2001, is about Genie's case, primarily from Curtiss's perspective. Her abuse came to the attention of Los Angeles County child welfare. The extent of her isolation prevented her from being exposed to any significant amount of speech, and as a result she did not acquire language during her childhood. When she was approximately 20 months old, her father began keeping her in a locked room. Her circumstances are prominently recorded in the annals of linguistics and abnormal child psychology. During this period, he almost always strapped her to a child's toilet or bound her in a crib with her arms and legs immobilized, forbade anyone to interact with her, provided her with almost no stimulation of any kind, and left her severely malnourished.
