Capital Markets Union The reasoning behind the idea was to address the issue that corporate finance relies on debt (i. have to reimburse a bank loan, but that is not the case if they emitted obligations on the capital markets. The CMU is supposed to attract. e. bank loans) and the fact that capital markets in Europe were not sufficiently integrated so as to protect the EU and especially the Eurozone from future crisis. Therefore, there is a strong financial incentive The Capital Markets Union (CMU) is an economic policy initiative launched by the former president of the European Commission, Jean-Claude Juncker in the initial exposition of his policy agenda on 15 July 2014. The Five Presidents Report of June 2015 proposed the CMU in order to complement the Banking union of the European Union and eventually finish the Economic and Monetary Union (EMU) project. The main target was to create a single market for capital in the whole territory of the EU by the end of 2019 e8145a7c10
