System of National Accounts It is nowadays used by most countries in the world. Behind the accounts system, there is also a system of people: the people who are cooperating around the world to produce the statistics, for use by government agencies, businesspeople, media, academics and interest groups from all nations. Manuals have subsequently been released for the 1968 revision, the 1993 revision, and the 2008 revision. Definitions of accounting terms, accounting concepts, account equations, account derivation principles and standard accounting procedures. Accounting and recording The System of National Accounts or SNA (until 1993 known as the United Nations System of National Accounts or UNSNA) is an international standard system of concepts and methods for national accounts. The pre-edit version for the SNA 2025 revision was adopted by the United Nations Statistical Commission at its 56th Session in March 2025. The first international standard was published in 1953 d251d1f3b8

Its syntax enables use of sophisticated filtering capabilities and thus enables users to satisfy advanced requirements. It is used in many FreeBSD-based firewall products, including m0n0wall and FreeNAS. ipfw is authored and maintained by FreeBSD volunteer staff members. Like FreeBSD, ipfw is open source. ipfw was the built-in firewall of Mac OS X until Mac OS X 10 d251d1f3b8

Supersaturation A supersaturated solution is in a metastable state; it may return to equilibrium by separation of the excess of solute from the solution, by dilution of the solution by adding solvent, or by increasing the solubility of the solute in the solvent. spontaneous crystallization from supersaturated aqueous solutions". Diophantine geometry Gauss, that non-zero solutions in integers (even primitive lattice points) exist if non-zero rational solutions do, and notes a caveat of L. F. to C. By the 20th century it became clear for some mathematicians that methods of algebraic geometry are ideal tools to study these equations. Diophantine geometry is part of the broader field of arithmetic geometry. E

Flory-Huggins solution theory Flory-Huggins solution theory is a lattice model of the thermodynamics of polymer solutions which takes account of the great dissimilarity in molecular sizes in adapting the usual expression for the entropy of mixing. The result is an equation for the Gibbs free energy change

On June 1, 2005, Governor Schwarzenegger signed an executive order known as Executive Order S-3-05, which established greenhouse gas emissions targets for the state. The executive order required California to reduce greenhouse gas emissions to 2000 levels by 2010, to 1990 levels by 2020, and 80% below 1990 levels by 2050. However, to implement this measure...

The experimental APT-E achieved a new British railway speed record on 10 August 1975 when it reached 152.
