Cell group The Alpha Course The cell group is a form of church organization that is used in many Christian churches. In Methodism, they are known as class meetings and are a means of grace; in Catholicism, they are known as basic ecclesial communities. They are always used in cell churches, but also occur in parachurch organizations and other interdenominational settings, where they are usually referred to as Bible study groups. " A number of lesson plans, workbooks, and programs have been developed to facilitate the study of the Bible in small groups. Cell groups are generally intended to teach the Bible and personalize Christian fellowship.
