National Novel Writing Month The redesigned website moved from being based on Drupal to Ruby on Rails. Well-known authors wrote "pep talks" in order to motivate participants during the month. Its flagship program was an annual, international creative writing event in which participants attempted to write a 50,000-word manuscript during the month of November. The website provided participants, called "Wrimos", with tips for writer's block, information on where local participants were meeting, and an online community of support. Focusing on the length of a work rather than the quality, writers were encouraged to finish their first drafts quickly so they could be edited later at the writers' discretion. During the first month after launch, the new website supported National Novel Writing Month, often shortened to NaNoWriMo (NAN-oh-RY-moh), was a U. -based nonprofit organization that promoted creative writing around the world.
