Rolling "Dancing on My Own" is a song by Swedish singer-songwriter Robyn, released on 20 April 2010 as the lead single from her fifth studio album, Body Talk Pt. The song's stark mid-tempo electropop version from her album was the first version of the single released followed by a layered mid-tempo synth-pop edit designed for radio and a downtempo piano ballad recording for Radio 1's Live Lounge - Volume 5 later that year. The song was inspired by situations Robyn observed while on her previous tour then clubbing throughout Stockholm, her favorite "inherently sad gay disco anthems", and the dissolution of her engagement. "Dancing on My Own" was produced by Patrik Berger, co-produced by Robyn, and mixed by Niklas Flyckt, with Robyn and Patrik sharing writing credits. 1 (2010), the first in her Body Talk series. It is alleged that Ali was not involved, and not interested, in the writing of this book to the extent that he never read it till after it was published. It is also alleged that before any material in this book was submitted to the publisher, each page had to be approved by Herbert Muhammad who exercised effective censorship on the contents of the book. Former Random House editor-in-chief James Silberman, who was involved in editing the book, claimed that "I'm not sure the book is the true story of Ali's life." It was written in collaboration with Richard Durham and edited by Nobel Prize-winning novelist Toni Morrison. The book covers Ali's life in and out of the ring. The book is a multifaceted portrait of Muhammad Ali's life; unapologetic anti-war advocate; goodwill ambassador; fighter, lover, poet, and provocateur. "My Own Summer (Shove It)" is a nu metal and alternative metal song, which has been noted for its emphasis on tension and dynamic contrast. Amy Sciarretto of Loudwire described Deftones' approach as "exercises in tension building", and identified the track as a key example of that style. A writer for Rolling Stone similarly referred to the song as a "master class in tension building". Stephen Hill in Metal Hammer stated that "On 'My Own Summer (Shove It)', they stretched their musical dynamics to breaking point." Kerrang! writer Sam Law pointed to the track's "quiet/loud dynamism", suggesting a stylistic link to bands like Nirvana. 72521a6e0e

Derek and Margo, two young archaeologists, are on a dig accompanied by "their nomad friend", a boy named Moki. They find themselves trapped in a sinking whirlpool of sand, finally the dust settles, they looked in awe at a vast chamber, filled with giant relics and artifacts from another civilization, there come across a far end of the cavern a door with a strange inscription in an ancient ruin that turns out to be a portal through time as the narrator said "All who enter into these portals passed through time". Though the introduction is the same in all videos, each episode sends the three friends into a different story from the Bible. They often interact with principal figures from each story, but without any significant effect upon the plot so as not to alter the course of history; in other episodes, they arrive decades after the events depicted in the Bible and... 72521a6e0e == Background and recording == 72521a6e0e The song "The Greatest Love of All" was written for this film by Michael Masser (music) and Linda Creed (lyrics), and sung by George Benson; it was later covered and made a Billboard Hot 100 #1 single by Whitney Houston. 72521a6e0e
