"Bruse", the name of the goats in the original Norwegian tale, was rendered as "Gruff" in the earliest English translation, and this has been perpetuated. However, the Norwegian word in fact means "tuft of hair". The story introduces three billy goats (male goats), sometimes identified as a youngster, father and grandfather, but more often described as brothers. In other adaptations, there is a baby or child goat, mama goat and papa goat.

Maria Anna Mozart She is known to have composed works of music, though no manuscripts survive. At age 17, her career as a touring musician came to an end, though she continued to work at home teaching piano and performing on occasion. In her later years she contributed to the biographical study of her late brother. She became a celebrated child prodigy and went on concert tours through much of Europe with her parents and her younger brother Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart. At age 33 she married, moved to a village six hours by carriage from Salzburg, and there raised her own and her husband's children. On her widowhood in 1801, she returned to Salzburg and resumed teaching and performance. In her childhood, she developed into an outstanding keyboard player under the tutelage of her father Leopold. In her later years she contributed to the biographical study of her late brother. to have composed works of music, though no manuscripts survive.
