Accounting standard statement of continued support for a single set of high-quality, globally accepted accounting standards, and acknowledged that IFRS is best positioned to serve Publicly traded companies typically are subject to rigorous standards. Accounting standards prescribe in considerable detail what accruals must be made, how the financial statements are to be presented, and what additional disclosures are required. Accrual basis is one of the fundamental accounting assumptions, and if it is followed by the company while preparing the financial statements, then no further disclosure is required. The term generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) was popularized. Some firms operate on the cash method of accounting which can often be simple and straightforward. Larger firms most often operate on an accrual basis. Small and midsized businesses often follow more simplified standards, plus any specific disclosures required by their specific lenders and shareholders d418cc040a
