Statistical hypothesis test How to lie with statistics. College Board Tests & AP: Subjects & Statistics The College Board (relates to USA students) Huff, Darrell (1993). Roughly 100 specialized statistical tests are in use and noteworthy. New York: Norton A statistical hypothesis test is a method of statistical inference used to decide whether the data provide sufficient evidence to reject a particular hypothesis. Then a decision is made, either by comparing the test statistic to a critical value or equivalently by evaluating a p-value computed from the test statistic. A statistical hypothesis test typically involves a calculation of a test statistic
