Educational inequality &quot;Racial Attitudes of PreK-12 and Postsecondary Educators: Descriptive Evidence From Nationally Representative Educational Inequality is the unequal distribution of academic resources, including but not limited to school funding, qualified and experienced teachers, books, physical facilities and technologies, to socially excluded communities. Quinn, David M. Individuals belonging to these marginalized groups are often denied access to schools with adequate resources and those that can be accessed are so distant from these communities. These communities tend to be historically disadvantaged and oppressed. Inequality in education is broken down into different types: regional inequality, inequality by sex, inequality by social stratification, inequality by parental. (2017-08-30). Inequality leads to major differences in the educational success or efficiency of these individuals and ultimately suppresses social and economic mobility. Retrieved 2024-08-04 fa1ee23a43
