with Hungarian is a highly agglutinative language which uses various affixes, mainly suffixes, to change the meaning of words and their grammatical function. These affixes are mostly attached according to vowel harmony. A The implementation of a grammar checker makes use of natural language processing. The original purpose of medieval grammar schools was the teaching of Latin. Over time the curriculum was broadened, first to include Ancient Greek, and later English and other European languages, natural sciences, mathematics, history, geography, art and other subjects. In the late Victorian era, grammar schools were reorganised to provide secondary education throughout England and Wales; Scotland had developed a different system. Dependency grammar words, are connected to each other by directed links. A dependency structure is determined by the relation between a word (a head) and its dependents. Dependency grammar differs from phrase structure grammar in that while it can identify phrases it tends to overlook phrasal nodes. All other syntactic units (words) are either directly or indirectly connected to the verb in terms of the directed links, which are called dependencies. The (finite) verb is taken to be the structural center of clause structure. Dependency is the notion that linguistic units, e.
