Companies Committed to Kids AGENCY: Radical Sheep Companies Committed to Kids (French: Entreprises pour l'essor des enfants) (formerly known as Concerned Children's Advertisers) was a Canadian non-profit organization based in Toronto, founded in 1990 by former chief executive officer Sunni Boot and former president of the Global Television Network David Mintz as a contributive production-wide body dedicated to launching campaigns and expressing the significance of their public service announcements to target children between the ages of eight and 12. Each PSA ends with the logo of the organization. It produced over 30 announcements, covering topics such as drug abuse, conformity, self-esteem, and bullying. Usually, the commercials partnered up with Health Canada. One of the mouse puppets from this PSA was used in The Big Comfy Couch. Edited July 16, 1993. they don't know what something is f31149b046
