2001–02 Arsenal F.C. season Perhaps the most The 2001–02 season was Arsenal Football Club's 10th season in the Premier League and their 76th consecutive season in the top flight of English football. At the Millennium Stadium, Arsenal beat Chelsea 2–0 to win the 2002 FA Cup Final. They lost only three times in the division, all of which were at home. Arsenal won the Premier League by a seven-point margin, were unbeaten away from home and managed the unique feat of scoring in every league game. Having ended the previous season as FA Cup finalists and league runners-up to Manchester United, the club went one better in this campaign, by completing the domestic double – their second in four years and third overall. midfielder Giovanni van Bronckhorst and striker Francis Jeffers were purchased in big money moves from Rangers and Everton respectively. In Europe however, they fared poorly as they were eliminated in the second group stage of the UEFA Champions League 0c7f38a782
