Samuel Richardson "you must give me leave to be astonished, when you tell me that you have finished it already". As it ran down, he wrote his first novel at the age of 51 and joined the admired writers of his day. Richardson had been apprenticed to a printer, whose daughter he eventually married. He lost her along with their six children, but remarried and had six more children, of whom four daughters reached adulthood, leaving no male heirs to continue the print shop. However, the novel was not complete to Richardson's satisfaction Samuel Richardson (baptised 19 August 1689 – 4 July 1761) was an English writer and printer known for three epistolary novels: Pamela; or, Virtue Rewarded (1740), Clarissa: Or the History of a Young Lady (1748) and The History of Sir Charles Grandison (1753).
