Small modular reactor However, SMR concepts encompass various reactor types including generation IV, thermal-neutron reactors, fast-neutron reactors, molten salt, and gas-cooled reactor models. also addressed the management of spent nuclear fuel (SNF) and low- and intermediate-level waste (LILW) from the possible future deployment of SMRs in Finland A small modular reactor (SMR) is a type of nuclear fission reactor with a rated electrical power of 300 MWe or less. Reactor technology and nuclear processes may vary significantly among designs. The term SMR refers to the size, capacity and modular construction approach. Among current SMR designs under development, pressurized water reactors (PWRs) represent the most prevalent technology. SMRs are designed to be factory-fabricated and transported to the installation site as prefabricated modules, allowing for streamlined construction, enhanced scalability, and potential integration into multi-unit configurations 4d7fe9e837

Business model In their 2013 proposal for accounting for financial instruments, the Financial Accounting Standards Board also proposed A business model describes how a business organization creates, delivers, and captures value, in economic, social, cultural or other contexts. The model describes the specific way in which the business conducts itself, spends, and earns money in a way that generates profit. The process of business model construction and modification is also called business model innovation and forms a part of business strategy. Financial Reporting Standard, IFRS 9 4d7fe9e837
