Hysterectomy Supracervical hysterectomy refers to the removal of the uterus while the cervix is spared. "Prophylactic and risk-reducing bilateral salpingo-oophorectomy: Hysterectomy is the surgical removal of the uterus and cervix. American Urogynecologic Society, retrieved June 1, 2015, which cites: * Blank SV (February 2011). The terms "partial" or "total" hysterectomy are lay terms that incorrectly describe the addition or omission of oophorectomy at the time of hysterectomy. These procedures may also involve removal of the ovaries (oophorectomy), fallopian tubes (salpingectomy), and other surrounding structures. Removal of the uterus is a form of sterilization, rendering the patient unable to bear children (as does removal of ovaries and fallopian tubes) and has surgical risks as well as long-term effects, so the surgery is normally recommended only when other treatment options are not available or have. These procedures are usually performed by a gynecologist 289195dd1c

Cellular device use while behind the wheel is one of the most common forms of distracted driving. According to the United States Department of Transportation, "texting while driving creates a crash risk 23 times higher than driving while not distracted." Studies and polls regularly find that over 30% of United States drivers had recently texted and driven. Distracted driving is particularly common among, but not exclusive to, younger drivers.
