ISO/IEC 27002 Industry-specific implementation guidelines for ISO/IEC 27001:2013 and ISO/IEC 27002 ISO/IEC 27002 is an information security standard published by the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) and by the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC), titled Information security, cybersecurity and privacy protection — Information security controls. impossible to list all conceivable controls in a general purpose standard 893907afd1

The series provides best practice recommendations on information security management—the management of information risks through information security controls—within the context of an overall information security management system (ISMS), similar in design to management systems for quality assurance (the ISO 9000 series), environmental protection (the ISO 14000 series) and other management systems. 893907afd1 The ISO/IEC 27000 family of standards are descended from a corporate security standard donated by Shell to a UK government initiative in the early 1990s. The Shell standard was developed into British Standard BS 7799 in the mid-1990s, and was adopted as ISO/IEC 17799 in 2000. The ISO/IEC standard was revised in 2005, and renumbered ISO/IEC 27002 in 2007 to align with the other ISO/IEC 27000-series standards. It was revised again in 2013 and in 2022. Later in 2015 the ISO/IEC 27017 was created from that standard in order... 893907afd1 ISO/IEC 20000, like its BS 15000 predecessor, was originally developed to reflect best practice guidance contained within the ITIL framework, although it equally supports other IT service management frameworks and approaches including Microsoft Operations Framework and components of ISACA's COBIT framework. The differentiation between ISO/IEC 20000 and BS 15000 has been addressed by Jenny Dugmore. 893907afd1

ISO/IEC 20000 It was originally based on the earlier BS 15000 that was developed by BSI Group. It was developed in 2005 by ISO/IEC JTC1/SC7 and revised in 2011 and 2018. guidance to service providers on how to implement an SMS based on ISO/IEC 20000-1. ISO/IEC 20000-6:2017 provides requirements for auditing bodies for the assessment ISO/IEC 20000 is the international standard for IT service management 893907afd1

The standards are protected by copyright and most of them must be purchased. However, about 300 of the standards produced by ISO and IEC's Joint Technical Committee 1 (JTC 1) have been made freely and publicly available. 893907afd1 The standard was first published in December 2005. In June 2011, the ISO/IEC 20000-1:2005 was updated to ISO/IEC 20000-1:2011. In February 2012, ISO/IEC 20000-2:2005 was updated... 893907afd1

ISO 9000 family The goal of these standards is to help organizations ensure that they meet customer and other stakeholder needs within the statutory and regulatory requirements related to a product or service. The ISO refers to the set of standards as a "family", bringing together the standard for quality management systems and a set of "supporting standards", and their presentation as a family facilitates their integrated application within an organisation. like ISO 19011 and the ISO 10000 series, may also be used for specific parts of the quality system. The standards were designed to fit into an integrated management system. In 2012, ISO/TC 176 - responsible for ISO 9001 development The ISO 9000 family is a set of international standards for quality management systems. ISO 9000 deals with the fundamentals and vocabulary of QMS, including the seven quality management principles that. It was developed in March 1987 by International Organization for Standardization 893907afd1

Social accounting Social Accounting is different from public interest accounting as well as from critical accounting. Organization (ISO) provides a standard, ISO 26000, which is a resource for social accounting. It addresses the seven core areas to be assessed for social responsibility Social accounting (also known as social and environmental accounting, corporate social reporting, corporate social responsibility reporting, non-financial reporting or non-financial accounting) is the process of communicating the social and environmental effects of organizations' economic actions to particular interest groups within society and to society at large. This 21st century definition contrasts with the 20th century meaning of social accounting in the sense of accounting for the national income, gross product and wealth of a nation or region 893907afd1

Social accounting is commonly used in the context of business, or corporate social responsibility (CSR), although any organisation, including NGOs... 893907afd1 The series is deliberately broad in scope, covering more than just privacy, confidentiality and IT security issues. It... 893907afd1 The standards are protected by copyright and most of
