In 1763, physician and naturalist Giovanni Targioni Tozzetti had already catalogued the natural specimens housed in the Galleria Imperiale in Florence. In 1766, the Grand Duke instructed Trentine physiologist Felice Fontana to gather the collections of scientific instruments housed in the Pitti Palace. In 1771, he also collected a large part of the Medici instruments that were kept in the Stanzino delle Matematiche (Mathematics Room) of the Uffizi Gallery. Restoration works of the Torrigiani Palace, which had to become home to the Reale Museo di

Física e Storia Naturale, began in 1772. The RSEF is a member of the European Physical Society, Federation of Iberoamerican Physics, and the Confederation of Scientific Societies of Spain, and maintains cooperative agreements with other societies such as the American Physical Society and Portuguese Physical Society.
