Emergency management The management of disasters tends to require some combination of activity from individuals and households, organizations, local, and/or higher levels of government. John Ambulance of Malaysia and Emergency management (also Disaster management) is a science and a system charged with creating the framework within which communities reduce vulnerability to hazards and cope with disasters. Emergency management, despite its name, does not actually focus on the management of emergencies; emergencies can be understood as minor events with limited impacts and are managed through the day-to-day functions of a community. Instead, emergency management focuses on the management of disasters, which are events that produce more impacts than a community can handle on its own. There were also some voluntary organisations who involved themselves in emergency/disaster management such as St. Although many different terminologies exist globally, the activities.
